MOUNTAIN LION

A Quick Introduction

SEMI-GLOSS DOCK

- Glassy look is gone
- Running apps indicator is on the edge
- Removing items harder
- Status bar

SCROLL BARS

- Blue aqua bars replaced
- Scrolling remains the same as in Lion
- You can still turn scrolling on (Sys Prefs)
- Hidden scroll bars fade into view when holding fingers on a trackpad (but not a Magic Mouse)
- Accelerated scrolling after 3 swipes

NOTIFICATION CENTER

- Spotlight icon shifted for new Notification Center
- Like Notifications on iPad and iPhone
- Uses iCloud
- Preferences panel available

DOCUMENT SAVES

- Autosave and cataloging feature
- New document saving prefs in Sys Prefs available:
 - Ask to keep changes when closing documents
 - Close windows when quitting an application (which means they will not come up when you re-open an app)
- "Save As..." has a keyboard shortcut now

$\overline{\mathbf{F}}_{0} \cdot \cdot$

DICTATION ARRIVES

- Must be connected to network
- Sys Pref pane for enabling dictation and the shortcut
- Available wherever keyboard input accepted
- Uses Apple servers to convert

ADDRESS BOOK BECOMES CONTACTS

All Cont Family Friends

- 3-pane view is back
- Share button now has migrated from IOS
- Supports email and Message (iChat) sharing

ICLOUD RESTRICTIONS

- Each application has it's own iCloud storage "container". So Mail may not see a document you saved to the cloud using another application.
- You can overcome this by using the Share button available in apps now, by using the "All My Files" in Finder or using Spotlight to browse for the file.
- iCloud APIs only available to apps sold via Mac App Store

GATEKEPER

- Found in "General" tab of "Security & Privacy"
- Allows you to select where an application may be downloaded from
- Has it's roots in Apple security decisions restricting malware on the platform (sandboxed apps only on the Mac App Store)
- Be careful when installing!

Allow applications downloaded from:

Mac App Store
 Mac App Store and identified developers
 Anywhere

HARDWARE STUFF

- New retina display on 15" MBP (1440 x 900 optimal ~ could go to 2880 x 1800 but this not available yet)
- Power Management Power Nap. Allows computer to partially awake (DarkWake) to perform housekeeping chores but does not power audio or graphics or handle notification deliveries.
 Only available on MBair (2011+) and MBP-r's.

DISPLAY RESOLUTION

 A list of resolutions no longer appears in Display prefs until you click "Scaled"

MISC

- All are handled by the Mac App Store, including OS updates
- By default, updates are checked for automatically. This will be turned off on group machines.
- Launchpad includes a search window now to find an app quickly
- Dashboard also has a new search window

MORE MISC

- Finder shows copy progress bars
- Finder gets Share ability
- So does Quick Look

CHESS?

 Mountain Lion still ships with Chess which actually dates back to NeXTSTEP. It's used as a testbed and now gets support for the new gaming service, Game Center.

GAME CENTER

Many of you play games with friends, etc on IOS devices.
 Mountain Lion now has Game Center support which is Apple's online gaming support.

FACEBOOK

- Full Facebook integration is not in Mountain Lion... yet. Expect this to happen in minor releases Fall 2012
- Facebook information will be integrated into Contacts and will be an option in the Share button menus
