When did JAMES begin?

JAMES began in the middle of 2009, three years after CMMAP began (1 July 2006).

Rodger Ames played a major role in starting the open access journal.

Who named JAMES?

A group of party-goers at Dave & Mary Kay's House

Who was the first chief editor?

David Randall!

Who is the present publisher of JAMES?

The first official publisher of JAMES was Institute of Global Environment and Society (IGES)

AGU became the official publisher in 2012. AGU began partnership with Wiley-Blackwell in January 2014 (JAMES format changed from 2- to 1- column).

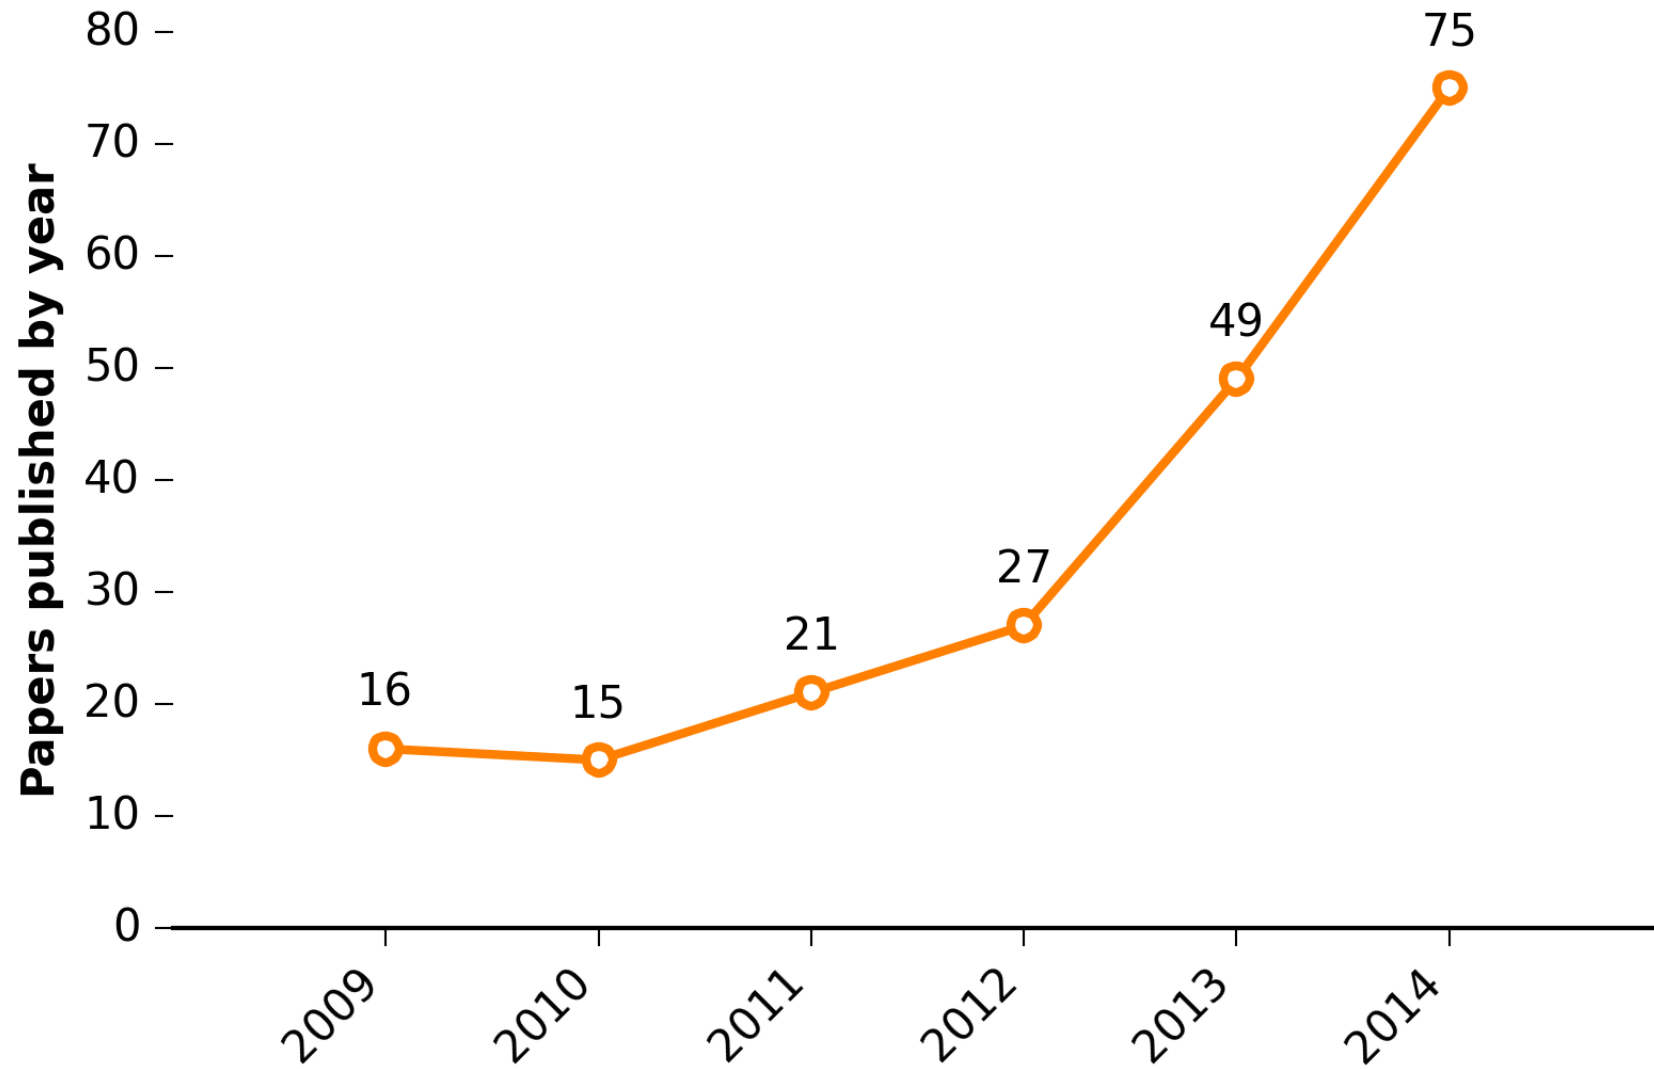

JAMES became AGU's first open-access journal

AGU now has 3 open-access publications

- JAMES (2009): Robert Pincus – CU/NOAA ESRL PSD
- Earth's Future (2013): Ben van der Pluijm – University of Michigan
- Earth and Space Science (2014): John Orcutt – Scripps
