

A year in the life of

“I read the news today oh, boy...”

CMMAP version:

I read the budget today, oh boy
All those fancy numbers spinning in my head
And though the money's all the same
Well, I just had to laugh
I saw the photograph
Of Dave back at UCLA
He didn't notice he was on his way
CMMAP was many light years away
Nobody'd seen his face before
And I wasn't really sure if he even knew Steve Lord

I saw a slideshow today, oh boy
A CMMAP researcher had just made a cloud
A crowd of students said, "Hurray!"
But I just had to look
I'd never read Dave's book
I'd love to turn and run

Woke up, got out of bed
Computers running, interns fed
Found my way downstairs, a meeting held
Directors quelled, nothing can ever wait
Found a file, read twelve emails
Gave my horse some more hay bales
Found my way upstairs and wrote a note
Somebody spoke and I went into a dream
Ah

I heard the MMF news today, oh boy
Four thousand clouds in all the simulations
And though the clouds were rather small
Marat had to count them all
Now I know how many clouds it takes to fill
Dave's walls
I'm going to turn and run
